QUESTION ONE: Translate into French

When we were young, we were excited towards December because that was the only period we would have new dresses and shoes for Christmas. What was particularly interesting was the fact that we were sure to eat some rice and stew with meat particularly chicken.

However, the situation has changed today. Many parents can afford to buy dresses several times a year for their children and themselves. Some children even accompany their parents to the market to choose the dresses or shoes they would prefer to wear on Christmas day.

On Christmas day, children looked very bright. They went around visiting their friends and sharing toys with them. Most parents prepared a lot of food items which they shared with visitors and neighbours. Nowadays children celebrate Christmas at home with their parents and family but in those days, we used to have real enjoyment with our friends.
